::: ENGLISH :::

Tarchon Fist was created at the end of March 2005, after the split of the band Rain, the memorable Italian metal group, whose mastermind was Luciano "Lvcio" Tattini (g). This event coincided with the coming of Marco "Wallace" Pazzini (b, Basic Dreams). The name TARCHON FIST was the "logical evolution" of the "Rain" band. Tarchon being an ancient Etrurian king, hero and then also a god. The god of storm. Whereas "fist" underlines the band's power and impact on stage. By the end of 2005, a video clip was produced. Thanks to this video, the band put out two albums on an Italian label, their self-titled debut in 2008 and "Fighters" in 2009. Line-Up changes and many shows followed. October 2013 "Heavy Metal Black Force" came out.

Remembering the first decade, the band released "Celebration 2005-2015" in December 2015 with a new song called "Celebration" and a best of. In July 2017 the EP "Proud to be Dinosaurs" came out.

Since 2010 the band's line-up has been solid except for new drummer Giacomo "Jack" Lauretani (2016). So from 2010 until today, the band toured all over Europe. In August 2018, after 13 years of activity with albums, EPs, video clips and tours, the band performed a show at the mighty Wacken Open Air! On their previous albums e.g. Tom Naumann (g, Primal Fear) or Robb Weir (g, Tygers Of Pan Tang) guested.

"Apocalypse", the concept album, their first ever, is scheduled for August 16, 2019, via the German label "Pride & Joy Music" and showcases artwork by Stan W. Decker (Megadeth, Avantasia a.o.).

The tale has nothing to do with the Apocalypse of St. John the Apostle. It combines motives from literature, history, mythology and many pre-Christian cultures. It is a story that is based on the dualism of human beings: Nobody is born bad. Nobody good. Personal choices lead us towards the former or the latter. And although there cannot be one without the other, it still seems that evil takes root more easily in our soul. It is always evil that "makes the first move".

Tarchon, deified king and hero of popular Etrurian culture (from which the band began its journey almost 15 years ago) will appear in the guise of the "Lord of Light" and the forces of good. In the course of this long war, he is accompanied by creatures that actually existed but are considered extinct today.

Darkness, on the other hand, is represented by Manth, the demonic divinity of the Felsinean cult guarding the underworld. He can make use of any kind of fantasy creature associated with evil which are found in the most disparate cultures in the history of mankind.

Tarchon Fist are: Mirco "Ramon" Ramondo - Lead Vocals; Luciano "Lvcio" Tattini - Guitars and Backing Vocals; Sergio "Rix" Rizzo - Guitars and Backing Vocals; Marco "Wallace" Pazzini - Bass Guitars and Backing Vocals; Giacomo "Jack" Lauretani - Drums
