Track 2 – Landing on Axtradel

The Guardian speaks:

It all started on an isolated planet of Vega constellation called Axtradel where just two inhabitants lived sent there to start a new civilization.

They were sent there by The Ruler to start agriculture and generate sons to work on that sterile land and let it produce fruits and to extract some water and energy to refill the spaceships.

Travelling from Alpha Centauri to Orion constellations, they started working with some sophisticated machines to fertilize the arid soil.

They generated many kids and everything went right for about a century.

Suddenly, they were attacked by other travellers who wanted to use their already done work and conquer that planet to be used as a space station.

Markus:

It was so far away
In a distant and cold land that could be astray
I was preparing to leave
And the ship was ready but I had something to share

All we have left behind
A new land is in our future, no matter of what kind

In the bold lands of Axtradel

Time goes by into the void
Time seems blind into the void
Now that we're closing stargates on this planet
We'll never be back, never again
We're prepared to travel eternally

Now I'm drying all your tears
We could live without our fears
But our souls are full of eagerness

Our Lord paved us the way
We'll go there to know
If all our dreams are lost in this dark emptiness

Track 3 – The Invasion

The Guardian speaks:

*We didn't think this would happen, that's all I can say.
There was no reason to fear any kind of threat, we couldn't have known that Helidunians just have been waiting for the perfect moment to come*

Markus:

It was dark and stormy when they came
The sky became red like blood
Everything was moving at the speed of light
We all ran for cover

Screaming for some help but no one cared
Our barricades raised high
While our lives are heading where there's no return

Fight for life, feel the pride
Hands of time, heal our lives

All our work will be now lost in flames
The Doomsday then will come
Running into the emptiness of night
We'll dominate our faith

And they're coming back, we're killing to stay alive
Killing everyone and everything to get control

No better place to go, they're coming to get everything we built
They're escaping like some shades

Oh, please help us to save our sons
It's time to escape, we cannot resist
Their thirst for blod is horribly crawling

Love came through our feelings while faith was gonna break
It was time to stand up and fight

Eloise:

We must choose another way to save our sons
The Ruler will help us in some way
A new life is waiting for us

Destination is unknown
In the coldness of emptiness
We'll find a new land
We'll seek for a new space in time

Markus:

Love came through our feelings while faith was gonna break
It was time to stand up and fight!

Track 4 – Escape to blue planet

Markus:

It was a wide and misty land
With hills and valleys in a dull light
We don't know how we arrived here and never we'll be back
There's no life or feelings no idols to be praised

It's not easy at all
To let it rise
And today

I can't even say
Who came to keep us safe?
They know who we are the weapons we have
We'll fight until our souls will be free...again!

Eloise:

An unknown land is in front of us
We don't know how we arrived here
I can't even say
How we came to this land just like praying
He showed me a way
But we didn't stay

The Blue Planet lies in front of us
We'll have to tame this cruel soil

Markus:

Weren't you to say 'Defend your sons'?
Were where you when we faced all their swords?
Was that the time to die alone?
How long we'll travel to a new world
Safe enough for us all forever to stay

The Ruler Speaks:

*Your role was to defend Axtadel
You are guilty in front of My Majesty
You escaped in the night leaving your mission incomplete
You'll pay the price for this until you'll die*

Markus:

Weren't you to say 'Defend your sons'?
Were where you when we faced all their swords
Was that the time to die alone?
How long we'll travel to a new world
Were where you when we faced all their swords
Was that the time to die alone?
How long we'll travel to a new world
Safe enough for us all forever to stay

Track 6 - Life Creators

Markus:

Then it came the time to say
Our future lies in our hands tonight
No more cries I feel I waste my time
A great work has to be done to find and pave our way to paradise

Markus & Eloise:

Don't be afraid to be
Now we have to walk alone, rebuild this paradise
Parsing what seems so big
All our ages waiting for a sign

Markus:

This is our way out from the caves
And find a treasure on our way, when worlds keep falling
We must look a wiser man in the eyes
He'll break our curse with signs of fire
To save our souls, let's build an army and fight!

High! Words are paving the way to a dome
Shed no tears 'cause this years are so long
In this world full of insanity

Markus & Eloise:

Lies! We all lie 'cause we feel so alone
Create life to fill up this world
That's gone beyond our reality

Markus:

Cry! And I'm wasting my time to become
The creature that you have drawn
To be your perfect son, I should obey

Track 7 – The Blue Dawn (Feat. Derek Sherinian)

Markus:

Another star has fallen from above
Shining like day within the dark
And all the dreams slightly turned to grey
Streaming in the space of Axtradel

We are the messengers of this deep and lonely journey
That drives us in the hands of another war
And what's the meaning of this never-ending searching
Cause we ain't build to reach out something more

And still we are searching in the hands of void
And still we are searching for a place called home

Another reign will be outlined
Like a new dawn in silence
And all the pain we feel inside
Like from unholy nature blown

Eloise:

We're like angels from this Earth
Please show me love

Markus:

Surrounding gently what's in time

I'll never jump out of the blue
I'll never save the sons of doom
Never you'll be brave to survive again
I'll never jump out of the blue
I'll never save the sake and the sense of doom
And another crime and another war
And another fear and another pain

We fight for glory at your side in the desert sands
We care and mourn for the rights of our new sons
Where's the Blue Planet that rises for our salvation
Start your engines, we're back were morning comes!

Track 8 – Sands of Yazukia

Eloise:

Deprived of light, long you lived
In that darkness you were our only hope
Your bodies and your souls next to mine
Deeply in sorrow you thought to fly away

Run away my dear sons
Run fast against the Sun across the desert
Cause love is vain, love creates pain and suffering in this world
Live brave and keep on fighting for an ideal

You can run away a thousand miles
You can hide in the desert
They'll hunt you everywhere and anytime

You must find a place to live your feelings
Escape to a land where there's no mind control
To let your souls be free and live your union
Escaping to Yazukia won't set you free

Escape to the desert is not a salvation
The sands of Yazukia won't hide you
You want to live your love against all odds
Nobody can change your feelings
But they will make you prisoners of time

The Guardian speaks:

*Arrange fast an army of brave soldiers
Our future is in danger
Workers, we must save our brothers
Or everything will be lost!*

Markus:

You must find a place to live your feelings
Escape to a land where there's no mind control
To let your souls be free and live your union
Escaping to Yazukia won't set you free

Track 9 – Flags of Victory (Feat. Roberto Tiranti)

Arabelle:

It's not enough to breathe
I run across this planet through incoming dark
I see an image made of light
We're part of this vision, a blinding darkness

I can hear your voice across the night
They're locking us here for thirst of power
Cyanide running through their veins
Into this dusk we can hide and try to escape

Don't let me fall on this freezing soil
Night comes again to relief our pain
We can feel our love grow
We can peer inside these souls

We'll be saved from here
We'll be back to our love
With faith in our souls
We can build a future, we'll find a way back home

Eristo:

A new day on this wasted land will rise
Our brothers will come to save us
The invaders will be defeated at last
We'll be back in a place of peace

Looking above the horizon, I can see their flags
Weapons shining like embers across the stars
The final fight has just begun
But in the end our flags will wave again

I can hear their screams
I can hear their dreams
The end of this war is near
Our future path is clear
Back home again, back home again, back home again
We'll be back home again

Eristo:

What will save our lives through this hard fight
Will be the love and union of our souls
And we'll never be afraid
Fighting for freedom, against their hate

My love for you will be eternal
Again, we'll rise our hands up to the sky and above this fear

Arabelle & Eristo:

We'll be saved from here
We'll be back to our love
With faith in our souls we can build a future
We'll find a way back home

Track 10 – The Supreme Being

The Ruler Speaks:

For years and years, they will serve us
One by One they will grow into a legion
Fathers of Fathers Then Mothers of Mothers
Thousands and Thousands will work for ten Thousand years

So, the Fathers generated one thousand Mothers and had many kids,
Also destined to become workers.

The main energy for these travels came from gold and diamonds that the Workers were forced to extract eternally from Earth.

On and on, the line of blood, a line of Kings

Eternally, through Time and Space
